With you every step of the way

May 9 to 15 is National Nursing Week, and at Carleton Place & District Memorial Hospital (CPDMH), we're celebrating!

The week has been filled with activities to honour our nurses - along with our physiotherapy and medical transcription staff who are also celebrating this month.

This year's theme is 'Nurses: With you every step of the way' and emphasizes how important nurses are in our lives - at every age.

With more than 406,000 regulated nurses in Canada - the largest of any health provider group - nurses are the backbone of our health system. This week, we recognize the profession for their dedication and commitment to making Canada a healthier nation.

At CPDMH, our nurses make a significant contribution to patient care, safety, education and innovation.

In recognition of National Nursing Week, please take a moment to thank the nurses in your life.
